

If this space was addressed with the same sensitivity that was employed when considering the garden courtyard then this mechanical courtyard could become a more composed and resolved entity.

Basic landscaping that has been effectively used elsewhere on the hospital's property could be put to good use in this courtyard. There could be a designated, paved path from the sidewalk of Walkley to the senior's residence. A privacy fence and a few well placed cedars could conceal the nitty-gritty of the utility equipment and frame the delivery doors.
